by Yves Keyaerts, Chocolatier

Number of participants limited to 10.
Please reserve your spot by calling 310-533-3939 ext.200.
Registration fee is US$85 by participant (maximum 2 participants from a same company). The fee is fully refundable in case of purchase of a machine during the class.

In this 2-day program by Chef Yves, the participants will work hands-on with chocolate. They will learn and improve their tempering techniques and produce a variety of products encompassing most of the techniques used in chocolate production these days. The program will present recipes for moulded pralines, chocolate bars, truffles and delicious enrobed traditional pralines. Yves will demonstrate the correct use of PCB transfer sheets and BAKON guitar cutter. The program will allow for an extensive use of BAKON melting trays and tempering machines. And, at the end of the program, you will have the opportunity to discuss packaging and marketing ideas as well as sample the products. The participants will leave with a box of the products they will have produced.
